

Code of Conduct

Sample document for the Company Policy RAG Assistant project.

Purpose

The Code of Conduct establishes expectations for professional, respectful, ethical, and responsible workplace behavior.

Respectful Workplace

Employees must treat colleagues, customers, partners, and visitors with professionalism and respect.

Confidentiality

Employees must protect confidential company, customer, employee, and business information and use it only for authorized purposes.

Conflicts of Interest

Employees must disclose situations that could create an actual or potential conflict between personal interests and company responsibilities.

Acceptable Use

Company systems, devices, and accounts must be used responsibly and in accordance with security and technology requirements.

Reporting Concerns

Employees should report suspected misconduct, policy violations, or security concerns through the appropriate company reporting channel.

Compliance

Employees are expected to follow applicable laws, regulations, company policies, and professional standards.